

Our science vision

We aspire and equip our children with the knowledge and skills for lifelong learning.

Fostering interest about science within our lives and how we can influence it in the future.

Providing children with opportunities to think like scientists, master scientific language and articulate themselves.